“Love this place! Consistent food and service... Never had a bad meal there, and I have been going for years! The kind of place you feel good telling your friends about, because you KNOW they won't be disappointed.”

“Sakura is reasonably priced for what you get, which is superb sushi. I continued to go back to Sakura because they were always FRESH. The sushi experience you will get at Sakura will be on par with the best, most expensive Sushi bar you could find...”

“The smoothie was light and refreshing... the server cared that we had a good meal... Highly recommend to anyone visiting Winter Park who wants a low calorie, healthy alternative to the more traditional restaurants.”

“Everything at Park Plaza Gardens is fantastic. The French onion soup is perhaps the best I have ever had. I have had both seafood and steak at Park Plaza Gardens and have never been disappointed.”

“The menu has something for everyone and isn't your typical American cuisine. Try to be seated out by the sidewalk at dusk for a little more romance, but seating is limited.”

“I am a huge fan of Spice! From the delicious tuna wontons to their extensive wine selection. It's a great place to meet for drinks after work, enjoy a romantic dinner, or have a gathering with friends.”

“Luma is one of my favorites. There is always something new on the menu, usually featuring fresh seasonal ingredients. The kitchen cooks fish better than any other place I have found. The food is delicious, with attention paid to both preparation and presentation.”

“The wine room is quite a unique place, it gives you the chance to either taste wines that you normally can't afford or, if you are the novice wine connoisseur, it lets you expand your pallet without breaking the bank.”

“Been several times always a great salad bar for lunch. All prices are fair especially when you compare to others on the avenue. Shrimp carbonara is one of my favorites.”

“Bosphorus: I've visited this Winter Park gem a few times. The dark wood furnishings and the gorgeous plating of food are a delight to the senses. Their fresh bread is amazing, the best of all the Mediterranean-style restaurants in the Central Florida area”

“Briar Patch sports the patina of a well-worn gathering place. Despite the occasional menu misses and service that inevitably slows down during peak periods, it remains a favorite dining spot for one really good reason: You can relax over breakfast, lunch or dinner, rather than think about it.”

Trattoria
Toscana

Orchid- “This place is AMAZING. My husband and I love the summer rolls for an appetizer and for dinner he loves the yellow curry and I love my Ginger chicken! The chefs take a lot of pride in preparing their dishes, the presentation, the quality, and all those flavors . . . Let's just say we enjoy every bite til the plate is clean!”

“Trattoria Toscano has opened on Winter Park's Park Avenue. It occupies a small space across the street from Cafe de France on the lower end of the trendy boulevard. It's owned by Armando Martorelli, who has been around for many years and involved in a number of projects, including, at one time, Bravissimo, Babbo (where Nonna is now) and Aroma, the coffee bar and cafe in Thornton Park.”

“I had lunch and a few drinks on Monday afternoon and enjoyed the atmosphere a lot. I had great service, just above average food. I thought the pricing for the lunch menu was good and the drink prices were average for the area.”

“Very reasonably priced and creative selection of food. They have a full selection of sandwiches, wraps, flatbreads, along with appetizers and other foods. The waitress was knowledgeable and took care of my every need. Great experience!”

“Had a fantastic time. Food was real good for the value and staff was knowledgeable and courteous. Would recommend to anyone who loves all you can eat but not into the buffet scene.”

“From pork-belly to grouper sandwiches, the home-made bread and ridiculously flavorful aiolis used to moisten these delectable morsels make me kind of die inside right now knowing that I cannot have them this instant, as I am in New York, not Orlando.”

“Great place for a date night, can be a little pretentious with the Winter Park crowd, but still a good place. You can have a good sandwich for cheap here or have a bottle of wine and drop a hundred bucks as well. Both meals would be great and this is one of the few places in town that can pull this off.”

“Hole in the walls are some of my favorite places to eat, and this is one of the best. They have great, affordable Mexican food in a quirky environment. Next to the railroad tracks with drink specials every time the train goes by is just one of the unique twists of this place.”

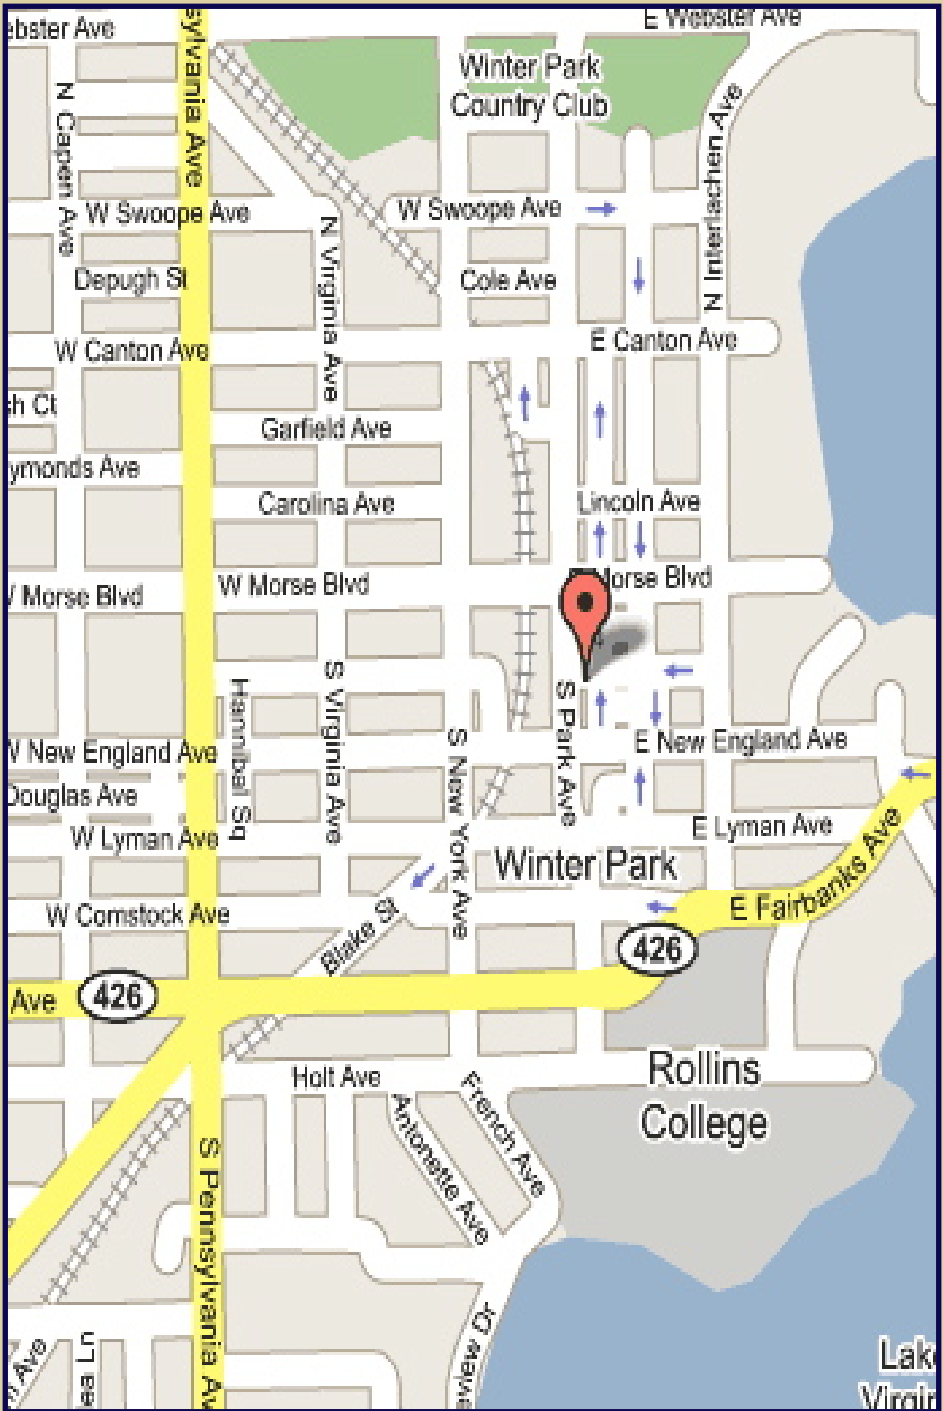

“Seriously great atmosphere, good food, good service. My favorite is the Guinness wings. You find the "stopping by on my way home from work" crowd, and the "on a laid back date," as well as the "game of darts and a couple pints" group.”

“You know the ones: all smoke, no flavor. O'Boys, on the other hand, definitely has flavor. It's a nice, comfortable place, nothing fancy about it, with booths around a small bar and a pleasant outdoor eating area. And it sure smells good.”

“Winter Park Fish Co. is a gem nestled in the heart of beautiful Winter Park, Florida. All of the seafood served arrives fresh daily and you can taste that when you try any one of the many delicious entrees. From the incredible soups to the light salads, everything is fresh and tantalizing.”

“A far cry from typical Chinese restaurants, Winnie's is reason for celebration. The spare decor, accented with fresh flowers and quiet music, serves as a counterpoint to the menu of carefully spiced dishes.”

“What a cool place! While waiting to be seated on Saturday night we listened to a terrific jazz trio in the lounge, led by bass player Don Waldrop. We watched the sunset over the lake and then went into the main room for dinner. The service was impeccable, the food superb and the location on the lake is gorgeous! Back again soon.”
