

MILLER ANALOGIES TEST

What is the MAT?

A reasonably priced test administered in 60 minutes, the MAT is an excellent option for candidates applying to any of the hundreds of graduate programs that accept MAT scores.

How many times can I take the MAT? Is it expensive?

You may take the MAT up to 8 times per 12-month period.

Fees for the MAT vary from one testing center to another; contact your preferred testing center for specific information on fees, registration, testing schedules, test administration procedures, and directions.

Where do I take the test?

You may take the MAT at multiple testing centers across the United States. The testing centers closest to Rollins are Nova Southeastern University-Orlando (daniturn@nova.edu), Troy University-Florida Region (407-219-5994).

What can I expect to see on the MAT?

The MAT contains 120 analogy items (statements suggesting a parallel relationship between sets of terms). Two objectives are addressed by each item on the MAT specific type of analogical relationship and specific subject matter or content area.

How is the MAT scored?

The MAT is scored on a scale from 200-600; the mean is 400. Percentile scores are reported relative to your intended major and for the total group. Scores are valid for 5 years. When applying to graduate schools, all your MAT scores for the past 5 years will be reported.

When are scores available?

MAT scores are mailed 10-15 days after test date.

What are some good study strategies and test-taking tips?

- Practice test questions under timed conditions so that you can acclimate to the pace of the test.
- Review the testing policies and understand how the computer-based test works.
- Take a free Practice Exam! Sign up at the Office of Career Services each semester.
- Do not spend too much time on any one question.
- Leave no question unanswered. Nothing is subtracted from your score if you answer a question incorrectly, so give it your best shot!
- Get a good night's sleep and eat a healthy breakfast before arriving at the test center.
