

Above & Beyond

During his three and a half years at the Hamilton Holt School, Bob McKinlay has authored grants to help fund the Rollins Center for Lifelong Learning, the Rollins Center for Health Innovation, and the CATCH Healthy Habits Program among others. This impressive list of accomplishments is just one of the reasons that eight of Bob's colleagues presented him with WOWs this March. Take a look at what some of his colleagues had to say about Holt's Director of Grants & Contracts:

"I have yet to meet anyone who values and promotes a team spirit better than Bob McKinlay. He is very quick to deflect personal recognition but equally quick to recognize the accomplishments of his team and colleagues." — Sharon Lusk

"You can tell that it is not just a job for Bob—it is his passion. His efforts are never in vain but always for the greater good of the team. His never-wavering spirit of optimism is absolutely noteworthy. — Stephanie Davis

"The world needs more people like Bob. His ability to analyze problems and outline necessary courses of action is invaluable, and his energy, creativity, and penmanship are extraordinary. We are so dependent on him and would be lost without him." — Jill Noburn
